DISTRICT COURT ADDITIONS

Death Car Driver Held For Murder

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS WILL RECOMMEND THAT DISTRICT COURT BE ENLARGED

Additions Will Call for Expenditure of $35,000—Commissioner Barlow Will Submit Recommendation—Hearing on Petition of Chelmsford Selectmen

The enlargement of the district court quarters in Market street, calling for an expenditure of approximately $35,000, for the erection of a one-story addition at the end of the building toward Central street, and a three-story addition to the opposite end, at the police headquarters, will be recommended to the city government, at the meeting to be held tomorrow night, stated E. B. Barlow, of the county commissioners, in conference here today. The proposed changes will add six feet to the end of the building nearest Central street, and 10 feet to the other end. The purpose of the change is to enlarge the quarters at the second session court room, on the second floor and to make provision for a third session court room, on the same floor. Direct entrances to Superintendent Atkinson's office and to Captain Patrick's office, on the main floor will also be provided for. Larger facilities for the probation officer and for several ante rooms will also be made.

The county in its recommendation, which will be drawn and submitted by Mr. Barlow, will state that the county is willing to pay additional rent to the city, to offset the cost of remodeling the building. Favorable action is expected.

REPORT CLARA PHILLIPS FOUND

"Hammer Murderess" Said to Have Been Located at San Salvador

Los Angeles Paper Reports Her Apprehension Momentarily Expected

LOS ANGELES, April 15.—Mrs. Clara Phillips, convicted "hammer murderess" who escaped from the Los Angeles county jail, Dec. 5, has been located in San Salvador, according to a copyrighted story in the Los Angeles Examiner today. Her apprehension is momentarily expected.

Mrs. Phillips escaped by sawing the bars to the window of her cell. No definite clue to her whereabouts ever has been reported. Her husband and several other persons were questioned after Mrs. Phillips broke jail but their examinations developed nothing to add to the police theory that her break for liberty was a task too great for an unaided woman.

Police here early today said they knew nothing of the finding of Mrs. Phillips, although she might have been released at some point from which no report had been filed.

Later last week a cablegram was received from Guatemala City, Guatemala, asking for a description of Mrs. Phillips. Nothing apparently developed from that query, however.

As was stated in this paper on Saturday, Rep. Victor E. Lowell, chairman of the house committee on rules, has acknowledged the receipt of an attested copy of the council's vote, but is looking for a bill or petition without which the general court has nothing on which to act.

Child Thrown Through Windshield Into Lap of Driver of Speeding Machine

John P. Gasson, Father of Little Girl and Mildred Holt Killed

PITTSFIELD, April 15.—The three-year-old son of John P. Gasson was found virtually uninjured today at the home of Fred Miller in this city, where he had been taken after being hurled through the windshield of an automobile which had struck and killed his father and Mrs. Mildred Holt. Miller was arrested on a charge of murder.

Mrs. Gasson and Daniel Read, who were also hit by the car, were at a hospital today where it was said that their injuries were not dangerous. The automobile, after ploughing through the crowd waiting to board a trolley, came a mile and a half from the center of the city, speeding away. What became of the baby boy was not known until the police had traced a car with a broken windshield belonging to Miller.

The police said that Miller admitted that he was driving the car at the time of the accident, but said he could not avoid it because the gears of the car were not acting properly. He told them the child had been thrown through the windshield and landed in his lap. Miller is an electrical worker.

D. A. R. CONVENTION BIG IMPROVEMENT IN EMPLOYMENT SITUATION

Buzz of Politics as 32nd Annual Continental Congress Opens at Washington

WASHINGTON, April 16.—A buzz of politics went into Memorial Continental hall today, with the two thousand delegates convening there for the 32nd annual continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Electioneering in behalf of candidates in the three-cornered fight for the presidential generalship has reached a warm pitch.

By special injunctions against the distribution of campaign literature on the floor and other provisions, the general sessions were prevented from too zealous electioneering tactics. The annual address by Mrs. Clarence Maynard Minor, the retiring president general, marked the morning session program, while the afternoon program was devoted entirely to the reports of national officers.

Secretary Hughes, Ambassador Jusserand of France and Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador, were invited to address the congress tonight. The three candidates in the forefront of the race to succeed Mrs. Minor are Mrs. Wallace W. Hanger of Washington, Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook of Pennsylvania and Mrs. William Cunningham of New York.

Employment under the age of 14 has practically ceased in London.

TWENTY DROWNED, THREE BODIES FOUND

MEXICO CITY, April 16.—Advices from Merida, Yucatan, say that only the bodies of three children have been recovered from Landa Bay, in which 20 persons were drowned last Wednesday, when a motor-driven bark foundered.

The name of the Bishop of Belize, who was reported among those lost, does not appear in the report from Merida.

HARRY RICHARDS, prominent Philadelphia business man, says he will no longer be cheated out of meals by stomach trouble, for Taniao has put him back in fine condition.

"No more will I be cheated out of the good things to eat, for the Taniao treatment has overcome my stomach trouble completely, and I have also gained eight pounds," declared Harry Richards, 10 S. Fifth St., Philadelphia, well known sporting goods dealer and member of the Royal Order of Moose, and the Ocean City Fishing Club.

"I was in such awful shape with indigestion that I had to lay off three and four days a week, unable to do any work. After eating my stomach would pain me till I was in agony, gas pressed up around my heart till I had to gasp for breath, and I was greatly annoyed by fearful dizzy spells.

"Mr. W. H. Williams put me onto Taniao, and now I never suffer from my old troubles, can attend to business every day, and am brimful of new energy. Taniao helped me when all else failed, and I'm glad to endorse it."

Taniao is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitutes. Over 37 million bottles sold.—Adv.

AUTO ACCIDENT CASE IN SUPERIOR COURT

The case of James J. Kerwin, plaintiff, in an action of tort against Arthur H. McIntosh, defendant, both of Lowell, was opened in the superior court today. The plaintiff, James Kerwin, alleges that on Oct. 10, 1922, he was the owner of an automobile duly registered according to the law, and that on said date the defendant was the owner of an automobile truck.

While both were being operated on Rogers street, a public highway, the plaintiff's automobile, being operated by an agent was struck by the defendant's truck, causing it various damage. Kerwin alleges that the truck was being operated in a careless and negligent manner, by an agent of McIntosh.

Prof. Mallinowsky, alias Miller, pleaded not guilty in the district court here this morning, to a charge of murder, growing out of the accident in which his automobile struck and killed John P. Gannon and Miss Helen Holt last night. The case was continued for one week and the defendant was ordered held without bail.

SEN. WALSH ATTACKS RADICAL GROUPS

SPRINGFIELD, April 16.—Addressing the Knights of Columbus in the City Hall Auditorium last night, Senator David I. Walsh declared that radical groups are attempting to monopolize the political parties of this country and are thrusting their arrows into the economic system as well. He scored the disrespect for law which he declared is rampant today and deplored the condition that leads the educated and well-to-do to be among these offenders.

He expressed opposition to the tendency of the government to restrict individual liberty and said it is a move away from democracy towards autocracy.

Senator Walsh stressed what he termed the failure of the government to take adequate steps to prevent suffering as a result of the coal shortage during the winter. Senator Walsh deplored the "vacillating manner" in which the coal situation was handled and characterized it as a "concrete example" of the "failure of the government to concern itself about the general welfare."

A meeting was held in Mr. Conway's room at the high school today for the purpose of forming a "Seaside Club." The first meeting for this purpose was held some time ago and a committee was named to formulate a constitution for the organization. At today's meeting the constitution comes up for acceptance and officers and a faculty director will be chosen. The club is open to all students of the school who are interested in any branch of science and will combine social and educational activities.

No Assembly Today—Six-reel Moving Picture Wednesday

There was no assembly at the high school today. Next Wednesday two of the recitation periods will be omitted and a six-reel moving picture, "The Production of Sugar," will be shown. This picture was made by the American Sugar Refinery company and they offer a prize of a large mahogany chest filled with large sized packages of their different products to the student who writes the best essay from the picture. The judges of the essay will be chosen by the sugar company and the prize awarded next week.

On next Monday, April 23, another "graduate officers' day" will be observed at the high school. On this occasion all graduate officers are invited to be at the school and take part in the exercises, and Mr. Harris wishes that they consider the invitation as a blanket one covering all as no special invitations will be sent. Major F. S. Tinsley, U.S.A., executive officer of the Organized Reserves, will be present on this occasion and will most likely address the boys on military training.

A meeting was held in Mr. Conway's room at the high school today for the purpose of forming a "Seaside Club." The first meeting for this purpose was held some time ago and a committee was named to formulate a constitution for the organization. At today's meeting the constitution comes up for acceptance and officers and a faculty director will be chosen. The club is open to all students of the school who are interested in any branch of science and will combine social and educational activities.

TOO YOUNG, ADMITTED ANYWAY

When a girl too young to wed and unaccompanied lands at Ellis Island she is usually returned to the country whence she came. But immigration officials broke precedent for Phyllis Curtis, 17, of Wales, when she said she was going to Nantioke, Pa., to live with her sweetheart's parents until she is old enough to marry.

ABRAHAM HAITOWITSCH THE BLIND VIOLINIST

It is hard to believe that Abraham Haitowitsch, the famous Russian violin virtuoso, is without sight, although he has been so since he was two years old. An accident at that early age deprived this remarkable artist of sight, but not of two clear, normal appearing, deep-set eyes, that fail to give any definite object, however, in the other world.

But there is a world of enchantment within the sensitive, musical head, surrounded by a mass of black wavy hair above a high forehead, and a countenance where serene contentment mingles with spiritual fire. He has no hobbies. Music fills his entire life, in which no woman has yet found a place. His constant companion is his devoted brother, David, because he has been so well treated in our country. Haitowitsch has decided to make America his home, and has taken out citizenship papers for that purpose. He says that America is the country where musicians are really appreciated. His aim is to become one of the great musicians of the age, and to that end he devotes his entire time and energy.

As to his contribution to the great war, he gave his time and talent to entertaining American soldiers and sailors in various camps, where he was always a favorite. When asked how he memorizes his music, Haitowitsch explained that there is very little music published in raised dots by which blind men read, so that his large library of music has all been written by himself, with a small writing board such as is used in schools for the blind, and a small blunt instrument called a stylus.

Although spoken with a strong foreign accent, Haitowitsch's English is very good and it is easy to follow everything he says in that language. As told by himself, his story of arriving here is preceded by some interesting reminiscences of the Russia of yesterday. He has a very pleasant recollection of the graciousness and charm of the zarina, who was kind to him, personally thanking him at the close of a concert which was attended by some of the best people of Petrograd. The violinist speaks with enthusiasm of the beautiful harbor of San Francisco, the door through which he came into the United States. He saw that harbor through the eyes of his brother, who made him believe that he had come to a city of enchantment.

Haitowitsch carries a watch made by the famous Paul Baure of Petrograd. The face of the watch is without glass. The hours are marked by single raised dots above the numerals, but the numerals themselves are number signs, invisible to the naked eye. The works of course are the same as those of any other watch. A leading oculist in America, to whom the blind virtuoso applied, advised that he continue his musical career in a world of physical darkness rather than surrender to the risk of making the rounds of all eye specialists. This he decided to do, as the world in which he lives now is beautiful.

Haitowitsch's first appearance in Lowell will take place at the Memorial Auditorium, on Tuesday evening, April 24, and music lovers will have the opportunity to hear this virtuoso in a very fine program which promises to be a real musical event of the season.

Writes as He Flies Above Clouds! Sun Correspondent Tells of His Journey Across English Channel by Airplane

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
Special Cable to N.E.A. Service and
The Sun

THE ENGLISH CHANNEL, April 16—
Sitting in a comfortable armchair, I
am pounding out this story on a typewriter, perched on my knees.
Three-quarters of a mile below me,
I can see the English channel. Rather rough, for quite a gale is blowing. To right and left, the great silvery-blue
wings of the Handley-Page.
And on either side a roaring Rolls-Royce twin-six, throbbing down to carry us on schedule time, about 50 miles an hour according to the speedometer
in front of me.

Cotton-wool is in my ears to drown
the noise. Yet that is not disagreeable, for we are inside a sort of "parlor car" with seven chairs on either side of an aisle, and there are glass windows.

Schedule is Exact

Overhead, on the ceiling, is a map of
our route: London to Paris, via Ash-ford, Hythe, Boulogne, Montreuil (Sir Douglas Haig's old headquarters), Amiens, and Beauvais. The time of our arrival at each of these places is printed opposite the name.

For, you see, this is just the new way to travel. I have only two large suitcases with me, but in the baggage
compartment to the rear there are several trunks belonging to another passenger.

Over the window at my elbow is a
notice. It says:

There are but five of us on board.
The pilot, G. P. Oiley, one of the best in the business; two mechanics, a British Englishman and myself.

One of the mechanics has just the
chair in front of mine and is reading—
from the rack overhead a copy of
"John O'London."

A column called "Whistles from Old Pinner street" catches his eye. Now the sporting page. Now "Casanova, the

GIANT PASSENGER PLANES.

1. Smoking strictly prohibited.
2. It is prohibited to throw
objects from the window.
3. Pure water is carried on board
the plane.
4. In case of emergency put on the lifebelt like a waistcoat and fasten buckles. A sharp blow on
the lever will inflate the lifebelt.
5. There is a lavatory at the back of the saloon.
6. Passengers may move about freely as the slight shift in weight
has no effect on the stability of the machine.

Supreme Adventurer"—Don Juan, Casanova and Wandering Jew all in one.
That seems to please him. He unfastens his flying garments and settles down. "Casanova, the supreme adventurer," probably in all his life
never experienced the equal of this
new commonplace adventure of flying.

Far down a big liner is heading toward Boulogne.

The young Englishman takes his
pastboard lunch box from the rack and begins to eat. His drink is whiskey
and soda. Cheese, tongue and ham
sandwiches, fruit, cake and chocolate
for dessert, compose his victuals.

We are skirting the shore line now,
a bit nift to sea. Far below, I can plainly make out the beach at Blaples

and the hotel where, when things were quiet on the British front, I used to go
for a fancy feed.

The young English lad has finished
his meal.

I'm hungry . . . The date represents the interest of my lunch. We're now past Ashford. My "stout" lasted pretty good. Certainly beats home
brew.

Young English lad is asleep. What's the use? No more thrill in this flying thing. No more novelty. Just a business now. Just a quick way to travel —quick and comfortable. Folks—even young boys—go to sleep traveling a mile up in the clouds. I remember when it was an event to hide on an electric car.

Twelve years ago Merlet broke his neck while crossing this same English channel. Gallant Hubert Lattice—later trampled to death by a bul-falo in Africa—fell into the sea trying
it, just from shore to shore. I covered that story.

And count De Lambert's feat, flying
around Eiffel tower in a Wright machine, breaking the record for both
height and distance in that one flight.
I covered that, too. And now look!

International Race On

Here comes the tug. Britain is leaving America way behind in this flying game—a game which America began.

Britain cut down her navy estimates,
thanks to the Washington conference.
But she boosted her air force estimates by more than $5,000,000, and I have reason to believe still more will
be spent to keep France from leaving
her in the shade.

For Britain knows and France knows
that in the future nations will win or lose their wars in the air.

It was to put this tag on paper that
I took my typewriter from the rack—
not to write a novel story while flying
above the clouds. No novelty in that.
America's very existence may some day depend on her strength in the clouds. She'd better get busy.

BENEFIT FOR ORPHANAGE

Large Attendance at Concert
at Auditorium in Aid of St.
Peter's Orphanage

Memorial Auditorium last night was
the scene of the benefit concert for St.
Peter's orphanage, and more than 250
friends of that home attended, despite the fact that a heavy rain started just
at the time that the concert was scheduled to begin. The entire program was under the personal direction of Miss Katherine V. Hennessy, director of the choral at St. Margaret's church, and to her goes much of the credit for its success.

The stage was arranged to represent
the music room of a palatial residence
and the entertainers came in as though
on a visit and were introduced to the audience by Hon. James B. Casey. The only lighting in the whole Auditorium
during the concert was furnished by the table lights and floor lamps on the stage.

The entertainers on the program
deserved the highest praise and the
applause received for their efforts amply repaid them for their work in the concert. The Boston College Glee club double quartet was
one of the outstanding features, and Miss Sarah Burns, a contralto soloist
from Boston, was another feature on a program that was well above the average.

Professor Louis Napoleon Guilbault
acted as accompanist of the evening
and his work added considerably to the beauty and the success of the concert.
The program was as follows:

Inhabitants of Freeport, Ill., say when they go to Europe they'll give Venice a wide berth,

Mountain of Money

Put Into a Foolish Film

LIONEL BARRYMORE

ALMA RUBENS

BY JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, April 15.—A certain man made a war fortune and built a mansion for himself and his family. The mansion contained a library, of course. He went to the biggest book store in his city and said to the manager: "I have 482 feet of book shelves. I want you to fill them."

The manner of stocking that library is analogous to the manner in which "Enemies of Women" by Deane was filmed.

William Randolph Hearst bought the film rights, engaged Alan Crosland as director, Joseph Urban as scenic designer, Lionel Barrymore as star, and pulled out his check book to pay the bill, no matter what the total.

The result is a glittering photoplay.

A collection of dazzling pictures which constantly impress the spectator with the opulence of the producer, but never with sympathy with the characters of the story.

The best parts of the film are its atmospheric scenes. Motion pictures are seldom taken there. They look just as much like Monte Carlo as the great sets built by Erle von Stroheim for "Greed."

"This story by Deane is just as foolish as Stroheim's. Indeed, it might well have been called "Foolish Humbugs," or something of the sort. Barrymore has two striking lights in the picture, one with swords and one with hands. Both are effectively carried out.

Barrymore always holds the eye when he is in the picture, but at no time does a situation extend him. Men or women could have done as well in his place. I believe that indicates the inherent weakness of the film; it is no time rise to an emotional climax. Cinema is glad on climax, but they are all crises in action and not crises in human affairs.

Until now I have believed Alma Rubens one of the most ineffective of screen actresses. She was emotionally impotent in "Humoresque." She finds her proper niche in a vampire role in "Enemies of Women."

Summing up "Enemies of Women": It is gorgeous, splendidly beautiful, stirring in action, weak in story and emotional reaction.

Edith Wharton's "Glimpses of the Moon" was generally much overrated as a novel. I thought. The screen version of it is fairly faithful to the book and so it carries out my impression of the novel. The photoplay strengthens my impression that Nora Smith is one of the three most magnetic personalities on the screen.

Rex Ingram's film called "Where the Pavement Ends" and based on "The Passion Vine" has an unhappy ending as it was shown on Broadway. I am told the screen was a broadcast through the country will have a happy ending with the young South Sea native chief marrying the beautiful white girl.

Spring at the Manhattan end of Manhattan bridge. Curb traders in second hand clothing. Straw hats, overcoats, overalls, trousers, worn shoes and new handkerchiefs being sold and traded. Twenty-seven bootblacks, most of them at work on rusty shoes of ragged men. Two young Chinese ladies of eight demanding a good job of two Caucasian bootblacks of six.

Twelve traffic cops on duty. A big bus pulling up by the arm, trying to forcibly get me in his store to buy a topcoat. Two girls, dressed like twins, carrying two dozen copper pitchers. Identically alike and fresh from the factory into an antique shop. Centless, open-necked truck drivers flirting with working-girls. Great atmosphere for a romantic movie.

Ten thousand dollars worth of swords and armor have arrived in Hollywood. No, they are not for a revolution, but for the production of "Ashes of Venus" in which Norma Talmadge will star in First National release.

LIVERPOOL, April 14.—A sweepstakes with $5,000,000 in prizes, to be conducted by the government to reduce the national debt and lighten taxation, was suggested in a speech here by Sir John Harwood-Banner, member of parliament.

If you feel "out of sorts," sluggish and weary

If you feel "out of sorts," sluggish, weary and irritable; if you lack the spirit and sparkle and the ability to do your work with the same briskness and cheerfulness that you see in others, it is probably because your organs are not generating enough vital energy.

If your blood lacks the normal amount of the elements that are necessary in the production of vital energy, it is not possible for you to feel strong, industrious and sprightly; you are bound to feel quickly, feel downcast and find it difficult to take proper interest in your work or your favorite recreations.

If you are not feeling as "fit" as you would like to; if you are in need of reinvigoration, you should take Wincarnis for a week or so. You will probably be surprised and delighted at the promptness with which this general tonic and restorative will enrich your blood, strengthen your nervous system and relieve your feeling of general debility and exhaustion. Physicians are prescribing Wincarnis because of its great virtue as a tonic and reconstituent.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
There may be more glittering and sparkling photographs on the screen some day, but so far there have been none made which surpasses "Jazzmania," the big feature production in which Mr. Murray, the noted dancer and talented actress, opened a four days' engagement at the Merrimack Square theatre yesterday. Those who saw it yesterday were loud in their praise of this wonderful example of lavish cinema art. It outdoes "Broadway Rose" and "Fascination," two of Miss Murray's greatest previous successes. The other feature of the current program is "The Super-Sex," a human interest comedy-drama, with an all-star cast.

RIALTO THEATRE
Just 60 minutes after the opening of the box office at the Rialto theatre yesterday afternoon, the theatre was filled to the top with an immense throng which jammed itself inside to see the opening performance.

of the sensational photo-drama, "The Third Alarm," which opened a seven-day engagement. It was the first time in the history of this theatre that the box office was sold out in such a short space of time and what is considered more remarkable about the opening performance is the fact that the "sold out" sign was again displayed before the evening performance was over. Naturally, Manager George Hammond was elated with the success of his opening performance and predicted that the coming week will be the biggest in the history of the Rialto box office.

This production, "The Third Alarm," is really one of the best that has been turned out of any laboratory in the country this year. It is one that may be adapted for any city because it is a story of a public service that is particularly near to the heart of every resident and every home owner. It is a story of the life of a fireman, portraying his troubles in his declining years, looking to the future with a dependable hope for the better and more sensational automobile. Coupled with it is a delightful romance of love which is made all the more attractive by a number of thrilling scenes including one of the most sensational rescues from a burning building ever depicted on the silent screen. Manager Hammond has delighted the showing in Lowell at the Rialto theatre, and his band of firemen and during the week these protectors of the home will be the guests of the management at the afternoon and evening performances.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE
Those who appreciate the delightful beauty of Irish music and the excellent band will be sure to appreciate "Sweet Innisfallen," with Bernard Daly, the romantic Irish tenor at the Lowell Opera House this week. "The Irish Lullaby" and "Foggy Dew" are the lead in this week's production. Miss Ethel Stockton, the famous Vi-ta-graph star, whom Lowell people will remember for her excellent work in "The Irish Lullaby" and "Foggy Dew," will appear in a new production, "The Irish Lullaby," which she has splendid possibilities for the legitimate stage, is spending a short time in stock before accepting an offer to go to a large production in New York. The additional quality of being expressive will remember her best for her delightfully cultured voice, which has a soft and certain air of distinction and grace which she puts into all her work.

CROWN THEATRE
Gold or money in general, is credited with being the root from which all evil grows. Certainly it is responsible for a lot of evil-grown evil seen in "Blossing Millions," a Paramount picture starring Alice Brady, which will be shown at the Crown theatre for two days beginning today. "Not only does the 'evil' emanation in this case cause a wealthy broker to send an innocent man to prison after he saved his life, but it prompts a fortune-hunter to try to conceive and carry out a bitter plan of vengeance. But the plan, which involves a series of gold, threatens to lead to human perdition, and it is then demonstrated that there are human sentiments more powerful than gold.

B. F. KETTER'S THEATRE
"A Dress Rehearsal," which is travelling, will be one of the two headliners of the present week at the B. F. Ketter theatre. Clean, fast and given by a competent company, it ought to score an instantaneous hit. "Dance of France," a charming little French comedy, will appear in "A Little Touch of Paris."

What I Have Learned in 47 Years Practice

I HAVE been watching the results of constipation for 47 years, since I began the practice of medicine back in 1875. I am now 83 years old, and though from time to time the medical profession makes some wonderful interesting experiments and tests, the fundamentals of causes and relief in this particular ailment are unchanging.

But the people take greater interest today in their health, in diet, exercise and the drinking of water. Constipation, however, will occur from time to time no matter how one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. I believe as getting as close to nature as possible, hence my remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It is made of Egyptian senna and pepsin with agreeable aromatics. Children will not willingly take bitter things. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written me to that effect.

Over 10 million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are now sold every year, and it is the most widely bought family laxative in the world. I say family laxative because all in the family can use it with safety. It is mild enough for the infant in arms, effective in the most chronic constipation of an adult. The formula is on every package.

Recently there has been a new wave of drastic physics. Calomel, a mercurial salt (yes and loosens teeth, has been revived; salt waters and powders that draw needed constituents from the blood; coal tar disguised in candy form that causes skin eruptions. In a practice of 47 years I have never seen any reason for their use when a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more cleanly and gently, without gripping, and without shock to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It lowers your strength 28 per cent, hardens the arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope but go to a druggist and get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a generous-size bottle. Take a teaspoonful that night and by morning you will be well. The cost is only about a cent a dose. Use Syrup Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and crampy stomach, piles, indigestion, loss of appetite or sleep, and to break up fevers and chills. Always have a bottle in the house, and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.

I REPEAT MY FREE OFFER

$10,000 worth of trial bottles of Syrup Pepsin free

Last year I agreed to spend $10,000 cash for free samples of my Syrup Pepsin. I had read them free and postage paid to all who asked. A tremendous mail was the result. But there must be many who did not write. I would like to get their address this time. So I now renew my offer, in remembrance of my approaching 84th birthday, and will again devote $10,000 to free samples. I am anxious to see one in every American home. Write for yours today. Simply give me your address. Send it to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington St., Monticello, Minn. Mine is free of charge; it costs the public nothing.

MYSTERY OF THE SEA

Battle Between Rum Runners and Pirates Indicated—Schooner Found

NEW YORK, April 16.—A mystery of the sea, involving a possible battle between rum runners and pirates, developed yesterday when the coast guard cutter Manhattan found the abandoned two-masted schooner "Patricia M. Behan," with sails set and anchor dragging at the entrance to Great South Bay. The deck was strewn with empty cartridge shells and there were signs of a struggle, according to Capt. M. J. Ryan of the Manhattan.

The schooner probably carried a crew of ten men and sufficient food for ten days was in the hold. While no liquor was found, entries on the log and on a leaf torn from a notebook evidently owned by the unknown captain, indicated that the craft had been engaged in the rum running business between Bridgeport, Conn., and Key Port, N. J. The first entry on the log was made on Jan. 12 and the last at 4 p. m. on April 10.

Lashed to the deck of the schooner, which is finely built and of the Nova Scotia type, was a stanch 25 foot motor boat, with the name "Maid of Canada, La Havre, N. S." painted on the stern.

The coast guards towed the schooner into port and started a thorough investigation. Examination of the torn leaf from the notebook disclosed that on March 27, 3, 9, 15 packages of liquor had been sold at from $48 to $258 (presumably a case). One entry showed that five cases of champagne had been sold for $50.

On Jan. 27, some one designated as "Taliph" took 145 cases and 440 cases at other times. Another person noted as a "ship" took 500 cases and there were sundry sales to fishermen.

The schooner was once known as "Edith Helen Bush," but the name had been painted over and covered with canvas upon which appeared the name Patricia M. Behan.

A. P. TELEGRAPHERS HOLD MEETING IN BOSTON

BOSTON, April 16.—The first meeting of the Good Fellowship club of the Associated Press telegraphers, which was preceded by a reception and banquet, took place yesterday afternoon at the Parker House.

The club is the first of its kind to be formed in New England by the telegraphers of this news gathering organization, and is to be conducted along lines of similar clubs within the Associated Press circles throughout the West and Middle West.

The object of the club is all that the name implies. It is planned to meet semi-annually in an informal way, and talk a little shop. In short, get together for a better acquaintance between the operators through New England and the executives of the Boston Bureau.

The banquet which in itself was one to be well remembered, was followed by a brief introductory address by Palmer C. Booth, chief operator at Boston, who, in turn, introduced John C. Harrington, of Taunton, as toastmaster.

Edward McKernan, superintendent of the eastern division of the Associated Press, was the principal speaker. He gave a brief and interesting talk on the purposes and accomplishments of the organization in furthering before the reading public a daily report of current news of a caliber that had gone a long way in advancing the civilization of the world.

Other speakers included C. A. Price, eastern division traffic chief, who gave a comprehensive talk on the aims of the traffic department; G. B. Littlefield, correspondent of the Boston Bureau; Ralph K. Smith, traffic department representative at Boston.

At the business meeting, the following officers were elected for 1923-24: President, P. C. Booth, Boston; vice-president, M. L. Deane, Philadelphia; secretary-treasurer, John J. Keating, Boston; board of directors, John C. Harrington, Taunton; chairman, J. D. Kennedy, Portland; F. C. Kinder, Manchester; E. J. Coleman, Provi-

LANSING-ISHII TREATY OFFICIALLY CANCELLED

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Official announcement that the celebrated Lansing-Ishii agreement between the United States and Japan had been cancelled and is "of no further force or effect" was made yesterday by the state department with an explanation that the cancellation was being announced simultaneously in Tokio by the Japanese foreign office, in a identical statement. The statement given out here included only the texts of the notes exchanged between Secretary Hughes and Masamichi Hanihara, the Japanese ambassador, and was made public without comment.

The communications exchanged between the two governments reveal for the first time that the negotiations which led to the cancellation agreement were conducted personally by Secretary Hughes, and Japanese embassy officials in Washington.

Actual consummation of the agreement, however, was effected in Tokio by former Ambassador Charles J. Warren and the Japanese foreign office officials when they affixed their signatures to the documents after the negotiations had been concluded.

This act of cancellation restores a parity of interests on the part of the Japanese and American governments in China and gives them an exact status with that of Great Britain, France, Portugal, Italy, Belgium, and The Netherlands, the other signatory powers to the nine power treaty negotiated by the arms conference.

The cancellation of the Lansing-Ishii agreement also has the effect of eliminating all ambiguity of existing diplomatic arrangements by removing the controversial language in that agreement by which the United States recognized that Japan had "special interests" in China.

By this accomplishment, nothing remains between the United States and Japan that conflicts in any way with the provisions of the nine power act as they treat the question of the open door and equal opportunity for nationals of citizens of the governments signatory to the treaty.

Many Big League Stars From This Tiny College

BROTHER AGNON, SPIRITUAL MENTOR AND ATHLETIC COUNSELOR TO YOUNG PLAYERS AT ST. MARY'S COLLEGE, SHOWN WITH HENRY LUDLOW, THIS SEASON'S STAR TWINKLER, WHO IS BEING CLOSELY WATCHED BY LEAGUE AGENTS

BY GENE COHN
ST. MARY'S COLLEGE, Ohio, April 16.—What Ohio has been to the "White House," St. Mary's college is to baseball.

This rather obscure and modest secular school has produced more sparkling diamond dust than half a dozen of the big universities combined.

In a list of big league products reads into a cross-section of any baseball annual. Its crop of fielding glimmers, never dwindles. Scouts literally hunt its unpretentious grounds. Joe Divine, Russ Hall and Jack Doyle are to be found among the regulars there. Connie Mack has a standing offer for the star pitcher there each year.

In the 1915 world series St. Mary's claimed four stars on the Red Sox. Harry Hooper, who had been a school honor man in mathematics, Eddie Burns, his roommate, who turned catcher, "Dutch" Leonard, pitching sensation of the day, and Duffy Lewis. They consider four pennant winners on a single team pretty good at St. Mary's.

But how do they do it? What's their system?

"Pluck," said the coach, late of Notre Dame will tell you there is none.

AMERICA TO HAVE NATIONAL FOLK DANCES

By N.E.A. Service
MADISON, Wis., April 16.—America will have her national folk dances, and they will be known the world over, if the efforts of Miss Elizabeth Burchenal are successful.

Miss Burchenal is known as the leading American authority on folk dancing, was organizer and first chairman of the folk dance committee of the Playground Association of America, and is a member of the staff of the National community service, in which capacity she trains recreation leaders. She came to Madison to institute community folk dance classes.

Recreation, through folk dancing, for grownups as well as children, is Miss Burchenal's life work. She has studied the national dances of all European countries, has traveled through regions unexplored by tourists and taken part in peasant's recreations, in order to learn all there is to know of this subject.

In 1913 she conducted a folk dance institute in Ireland, for which she was presented a gold Tara brooch, held sacred by the Irish.

It's Recreation
The greatest potential value of folk dancing, she says, lies in its possibilities as a much needed wholesome form of popular recreation.

"Folk dancing as a means of self-expression and wholesome recreation for children is established. It is here to stay. The children have decided that. But as a part of adult recreation and as a means of developing citizenship, it has just begun."

"Self-consciousness, dignity and timidity are broken down and all give themselves up to relaxation, enjoyment and exhilaration as happily as children."

"It is only a matter of time when folk dancing will be an American community activity. It is bound to be, for it is one of the happy things people can do so freely and so easily."

Billie and railroad police are investigating the discovery of a pile of ties on the Bedford branch of the Boston & Maine at a point about 1000 feet south of High street, in North Billerica, Saturday morning.

The ties were some of a lot recently placed at one side of the road bed at that place and the police believe they were placed across the rails Friday evening.

The discovery of the obstruction was made by the engineer on the train that left Lowell for Boston at 6.30 o'clock, Saturday morning.

Two other unusual occurrences in the town recently may have some connection with this alleged attempt to wreck the Bedford branch train and the authorities are working on this supposition.

One was the destruction by fire of a shack in High street last Thursday night and the other, the hurling of a large stone through a window in the home of a foreman at the Billerica car shops.

The shack in High street formerly was used by strike pickets.

The police do not say that these events have any connection with labor troubles at the railroad shops, but contend they have the appearance of spiteful retribution.

May Dance Themselves to Death

CHICAGO, April 16.—Long distance, Marathon, or endurance dancers may dance here until they drop without interference from the police. Commenting on the announcement of a championship contest for Chicago April 24, Herman Bundesend, health commissioner, said: "Chicago health authorities will not interfere with anyone who wishes to dance himself to death." However, the health commissioner said he regarded three hours at a time three times a week as "about the limit of healthful, beneficial dancing."

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 16.—Twenty-eight dancers, all but six of them women, were entered in two endurance dancing contests here early today, determined to break the record established at Houston yesterday by Miss Magdalene Williams.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

THE EASTER BUNNY

"EXCUSE ME FOR NOT TIPPING MY HAT"

The very next person the twins met in the park was the Easter Bunny. But one has to be careful. If, by any chance, I left the Easter baskets under the porch curtains on April Fools' day instead of Easter, it would be shocking. The kiddies would think I was fooling them. It would be just as bad for Santa Claus to fill their stockings on the Fourth of July.

RUSSIAN "HOLY WAR" VICTIMS

Here is the first picture to arrive in America of the Russian priests who stood trial before a Soviet court when a movement to drive all organized religion from Russia was started. Monsignor Budkewicz (1), vicar-general of Petrograd, was shot to death. Death sentence of Archbishop Zepiak (2), Metropolitan of Petrograd, was commuted to ten years imprisonment when many nations protested against the proposed execution. Five others in this group, photographed during the progress of the trial, were sentenced to five years and eight of them to three years. A choir boy (upper left) was dismissed.

Woman Spurns Society to Care for Horses Valued at Million

MISS ELIZABETH DAINGERFIELD AND SOME OF HER EQUINE CHARGES—MORVICH (ABOVE) GOLDEN BROOM (LEFT, BELOW) AND MAN O' WAR (RIGHT, BELOW)

By N.E.A. Service
LEXINGTON, April 16.—The companionship of horses is a lot more interesting than that of most people. You can depend on them—and show me a man who can say with truth that his vices are fewer than those of a horse.

That comes from Miss Elizabeth Daingerfield, daughter of southern aristocracy who has entered into the south's most exclusive social circles, but who elects to spend most of her time with horses.

Miss Daingerfield is a superhandler of thoroughbred racing stock. She manages her own farm, Haylands, near here and besides is active manager of Far Away farm, owned by Samuel Holme of Maryland and Walter Jeffords of Philadelphia and Lexington.

Charles Worth Million
To Miss Daingerfield's care is entrusted a herd of world-famed racehorses, valued at more than $1,125,000. Among them is the celebrated Morvich, winner of last year's Kentucky derby, whose owner, Benjamin Block, wouldn't take $200,000 for him, the unbeatable Man o' War, said to be worth $500,000, and Golden Broom, whose value is not even estimated.

Miss Daingerfield is the only woman in America who personally supervises the care of valuable horses with the one exception of Mrs. Edward Kane, active manager here for August Belmont, New York millionaire banker.

Besides her work in caring for equine celebrities, Miss Daingerfield is an extensive dealer in thoroughbred horses and her judgment is accepted unhesitatingly by experts in horsemanship.

Bella Horses, Too
Last year her private sales of racing stock amounted to $60,000 and the year before her sales at the auction ring at Saratoga, N. Y., reached $47,000.

"It is with horses as Kipling says of women—you never can tell till you've tried them, and then you can't be sure," Miss Daingerfield says.

"People who think horses are degenerating with the exception of a few bred for racing purposes are wrong. The horse will not disappear—there'll always be a place for him.

"Demand for thoroughbred horses has increased since the war."

creasingly hard to cope with the situation.

Present immigration laws, restricting the number of immigrants in any one year to three per cent of the number of that nationality shown in the 1910 census is, according to Miss Claghorn, fulfilling its purpose, namely that of keeping out immigrants from southeastern Europe and encouraging those from the north of Europe.

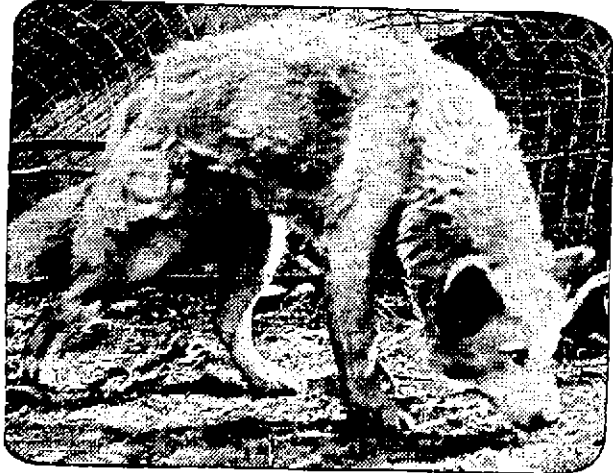

Miss Claghorn is not inclined to criticize this, however, so much as other difficulties with immigration laws which she claims are threefold:

The basing of the quota upon "place of birth" is manifestly unfair, seeing that a child born of English parents on Turkish soil would have to be admitted, not under the English quota but under the Turkish.

Rigid adherence to the quota tends to break up families.

The intelligence test is unfair, seeing that feeble-mindedness, as pointed out by Mendel, may skip one generation of a family only to appear in another.

IMMIGRATION CHAOS IS BLAMED ON HYSTERIA

By JOSEPHINE VAN DE GRIFT
N.E.A. Service Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 16.—Do we need protection against the immigrant? Or does the immigrant need protection against us?

Chiefly the latter, says Kate Holladay Claghorn, instructor in social research of the New York School of Social Work, whose book, "The Immigrant's Day in Court," throws new light on an international problem.

"National hysteria born of war conditions still sways America," says Miss Claghorn. "The same sort of hysterical fear that brought on many of the recent agitations is now directed against the foreigner."

"Yet the fear is largely without foundation. We need new legislation restricting immigration but not to save us so much as to save the immigrant."

"The most valid basis for objection has not been able to show that immigrant labor has lowered the wages of the American working man. Indeed, by his willingness to do the dirty work, to dig in swamps and such, the immigrant has forced the American up into the positions of overseer and superintendent."

"The American is literally living off the foreigner."

"But what happens to the foreigner when he lands in this country? He is exploited on every side. Scoundrels on him of his baggage and money. Taxi drivers drive him out of his way in order to extort a larger fee from him. Foremen periodically demand a part for his wages under the threat of firing him."

"When he desires to invest his meagre savings in real estate, swindlers get him to sign papers the meaning of which he knows nothing."

"If he loses a leg in an accident, ambulance runners promptly get him into the power of avaricious lawyers who extract every possible bit of money from him.

"When he goes to court he encounters a justice frequently hostile, many times not only mercenary but downright illiterate."

"If he happens to be a Russian and shows any interest at all in socialistic activities he stands the chance of being

Germans Flock to Holland to Buy Goods

AIX-LE-CHAPPELLE, April 16.—Germans have been flocking to The Netherlands of late to buy all kinds of goods, for nearly everything is cheaper in Holland today. The reverse was true a few months ago. Despite the extra guard on the frontiers, the smuggling business has increased in leaps and bounds and even the peasants living along the border have turned to and are said to be "reaping a harvest" by the trade.

Jack Daw in Candy Land. Chapter 22

As the little Maple Sugars rolled through Maple Grove and into the open, Jack asked Caramel where they were going. "Oh, it's hard to tell," came the reply, "but we will follow them and see." So Jack and Pip and Caramel trailed along behind the long line of rolling candies.

Pretty soon they came upon several little walnut meats. These funny little fellows waved to Caramel and asked him if he knew where the little band of fudge-men were. "Fudge-men?" replied Caramel. "Why here they come now." And, sure enough, the fudge-men were racing right up to the Nuttments.

Then there was a great excitement. Each little fudge-man picked out a Nutment and threw his arms around it. In a moment every Nutment was surrounded by fudge. "What does this all mean?" asked Jack. "Why that's the way they make nut fudge," replied Caramel with a laugh. (Continued.)

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bond of matrimony between your libellant and the said libellee be decreed and that she may be given the custody of their minor child, Hugh M. Rooney, Jr., aged seven years.
Dated this sixth day of April, A.D. 1923.
GRACE M. ROONEY.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT NO SUGAR SHORTAGE

Judge Enright Back on the Bench — Small Monday Morning Docket

Judge Enright returned to the bench in the district court this morning after an absence of two weeks and was greeted with a small docket. Joseph Laroche pleaded guilty to a complaint charging him with illegal keeping and was ordered to pay a fine of $100. The defendant asked for a time extension in which to raise the money, saying he had but $50 in his possession at the time. He was given ten days to raise the additional $50.

Albert H. Tardiff pleaded not guilty to drunkenness and driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. Tardiff was arrested in Dracut, Mass., by Napoleon Carpenter yesterday after the machine which he was driving struck and knocked down a man named Dupre on the Lowell-Lawrence boulevard in the Dracut section. Carpenter was charged with drunkenness and his case was placed on file in the district court this morning. Tardiff was continued to April 27, bonds being fixed at $200 for the drunkenness complaint and $300 for driving under the influence of liquor.

James Morse, a parole man from the state farm, was given to understand that he was getting away fortunately when a suspended sentence was imposed, on a drunkenness charge.

The committee has secured the services of the Campbell's augmented orchestra, which has been meeting with unusual success in Auditorium attractions this season. A concert of popular airs will precede the general dancing program. Subscription $1.00.

Recent Advances Due to Speculation, Say State Commission Investigators

BOSTON, April 16.—The state commission on necessities of life, reporting to the legislature today on a special investigation of the sugar situation, said there was no shortage, present or prospective, and that the recent advances were due largely to speculation, most of it in the New York Sugar Exchange.

The activities of the exchange were declared to be purely speculative, and it was asserted that the exchange "played an important part in the recent speculative rise of sugar prices."

The commission found that neither production costs nor the tariff had anything to do with increasing prices. Legislation of the flow of sugar from China was possible, it was said, by the concentration of ownership in a few strong hands, some in the United States, some in Canada.

The world production of sugar this year, was estimated at 30,000,000 tons more than that of last year, and it was added that beet sugar fields in France were being fast rehabilitated.

BROADWAYS ENTERTAIN WOUNDED WAR VETS

Yesterday afternoon, through the courtesy of Pres. William Walsh and several members of the Broadway Social and Athletic club, Chapter 5 of the Disabled Veterans of the World war was enabled to provide a pleasant entertainment for the ex-soldiers now recuperating in Groton hospital. The trip from Lowell was made via automobile.

The concert was arranged by Daniel Conkley, P. J. Mitchell and M. McCarthy and all the soloists were from the local club. An additional feature was the clever song and dance numbers by Lowell's premier juvenile entertainer Miss May Conway, who was accompanied by her sister, Miss Mary Conway. The soloists were the McLaughlin Sisters, Fred Connors, Ted Stapleton, Daniel Kelly, Jack Dession and M. McCarthy. William N. Quinn accompanied on the piano. Mr. Quinn is chairman of the entertainment committee of the D.A.V. of W.V. and it was chiefly through his efforts that the Groton affair was made possible. The disabled veterans wish to thank all those who so kindly donated their services in making the concert a success.

UNSEASONABLE STORM DELAYS TRAFFIC

Old Man Winter made a strong comeback last night and succeeded in temporarily disrupting the street railway company. At about 11:15 p. m. the trolley wire on the Reading line on Rogers street burned out and at the same time a wire on the Long Pond road at Lakeview also burned out, owing to the heavy accumulation of sleet which formed on the wires. The lines were repaired by starting them this morning and service was resumed.

STEAMER AND SCHOONER PAPPAS LOSES FIGHT FOR LIFE IN BLINDING STORM

BIDDEFORD, Me., April 16.—Coast guardsmen from the Fletcher's Neck station early today rescued Captain F. E. Stewart of Fall River and his crew of 17 men from the tanker Anahua, which grounded near Portland's wharves in a blinding snowstorm late last night.

The tanker was resting easily on a sandy bottom and Captain Stewart was confident she would be floated on the next high tide with the aid of the cutter Ossipee, which was expected from Portland. She was bound to Fall River, Me., from Bangor, where a cargo of 550 barrels of oil had been discharged.

The thick snow made it impossible to see the lighthouses along the coast, and the tanker's course was being shaped by the compass. Off Fletcher's Neck, she was pointed too far westward and before the lookouts were aware of danger, the craft grounded on a sandy beach after occupying high rocky bluffs on either side.

The coast guardsmen, three miles away, were unable to see the rockers because of the snow but finally heard the warning blasts from the Anahua's whistle. Captain John Morton and his crew then lost no time in getting to the scene with their boat and taking off the crew.

Supreme Court Imposes What Appears to Be Final Block to Fight to Escape Chair

Contention of His Counsel That Court Was in Error Overruled Today

BOSTON, April 16.—The supreme court today imposed what appeared to be a final block to the fight for life of Paul Pappas, condemned to death for the killing of Allen Arsenault when it overruled the contention of his counsel that the superior court was in error in sentencing him. The law passed last year which provides that a year must elapse between conviction and sentence in capital cases does not apply in his case, it was decided. Pappas originally under sentence to die in the electric chair during the week of March 18, spent two weeks in the death house at the state prison, with the execution postponed from day to day in the last week, before the court asked the governor and council to grant a stay of execution until May 1, in order to obtain a full bench ruling on the petition.

MATRIMONIAL

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place this morning at St. Jeanne d'Arc church in Fourth avenue, Pawtucketville, when Mr. Frederick Dufault of Marlboro, a veteran of the World war and a young man who saw several years' service in the regular army and Miss Anne Allard, a popular young woman of Pawtucketville, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at a nuptial mass celebrated at 7 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. Leon Lamothe, O.M.I. During the mass hymns were sung by the choir, under the direction of Miss Annette Dion, who also presided at the organ. The bride was attired in white, the groom in a tuxedo. A shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. She was given away by her father, Mr. Moise Allard, while the groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Oliver C. Dufault, also of Marlboro. At the close of the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, 1028 Varum avenue, and present at the festivities from out-of-town were Oliver C. Dufault, Miss Amanda Dufault, Edward L. Cormier and Ernest Manilla, all of Marlboro; Mr. and Mrs. John Gagnon of North Acton and George Allard and two sons of Boston, N. H. After an extended honeymoon trip the couple will make their home at 1028 Varum avenue.

REDSTEAD HAUNTED

MOWBRAY, England, April 14.—Mrs. Frank Gray says a bloodstained old bedstead in a heap of rubbish in her yard is haunted. It draws a handsome ghost that carries a violet scent and another, a repulsive one, that bears a pistol and a candle, she says.

attended by his father, Mr. Alfred Cloutier. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom, 24 Ward street, where the couple will make their home.

WATCH WEDNESDAY'S SUN OSTROFF

The marriage of Mr. Leo Cloutier and Miss Catherine Lafinger took place at 7 o'clock last evening, at St. Joseph's rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Athanasius Marion, O.M.I. The bride wore a white tulle dress with a long and short train. She was given away by her stepfather, Mr. Norbert Blanchette, while the groom was attended by his father, Mr. Alfred Cloutier. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom, 24 Ward street, where the couple will make their home.

Will Plant Memorial Grove of 100 Oaks in Knapp Ave.

Oaks that will form the memorial grove will be set out.

The red oaks are expected next Saturday. They are seven or eight-year-old trees, two inches in circumference and when matured far advanced as a beauty and symmetrical appearance.

Superintendent John W. Kernan today is discussing plans for the Arbor day exercises with Clarence M. Wood, chairman of the park commission. The proposition already has been talked over with representatives of the Jordan post and a detailed program of exercises will be announced within a few days.

It is the opinion of the park board that no more beautiful memorial is possible than the planting of a grove of shade trees and the spot selected, an acre already reserved as a public park and on one of the slopes of Fort Hill, is thought to be particularly adapted to the idea. The conversion of Knapp avenue into a "Memorial Drive" not only will greatly enhance its appearance, but will provide a beautiful approach to the memorial grove, the cemetery and Fort Hill from Rogers street.

It is the great desire of the park commission that some Lowell representative be in Washington on National Arbor day, May 4, when memorial trees will be planted, one for every large city in the country. Mayor John J. Donovan does not feel he will be able to attend, but the commission feels someone should be delegated to represent the city at the capital on that occasion.

TO HOLD MASS MEETING INTERESTING ADDRESS

Dissatisfaction in Local Mill — 1/2 Per Cent Increase is Rejected

Because of some dissatisfaction prevailing in the warping department of the Appleton company, the employees of the plant will hold a mass meeting of Trades and Labor hall tomorrow evening.

The nature of the dissatisfaction or grievances existing in that particular department of the mill was not made public.

It was learned this noon that John Hanley, president of the Lowell Textile Union, called on the members of the Appleton company this morning, but nothing was accomplished at the conference. Mr. Hanley admitted conferring with Mr. Bowen, but he would give no information whatever on the matter. Mr. Bowen, when later questioned by The Sun, stated that Mr. Hanley called on him this forenoon and said that as far as he knew all grievances in the warping department of his mill, if any existed, had been settled.

Wage Increase Not Accepted

The so-called voluntary 1 1/2 per cent wage increase granted in numerous New England textile and cotton mills, including the cotton mills of this city, which is to become operative April 30, was rejected by the members of the New England conference board of the United Textile Workers of America, which was held yesterday at 3 Boylston street, Boston.

The meeting also adopted resolutions addressed to the international officers of the organization requesting that the fight for a 2 1/2 per cent wage increase all over New England be renewed and continued to a finish.

The meeting was presided over by President Francis Johnston of Maynard and was attended by over five delegates, including ten from this city, headed by John Hanley. The wage discussion was the topic of discussion and after the matter had been gone over very carefully it was voted to renew and keep the fight for the offer that wage increase asked for by the U. T. W. of A. that is 2 1/2 per cent. The vote was in the form of resolutions addressed to the international officers of the organization, which were drafted by a committee, which included Mr. Hanley of this city. Incidentally the 48-hour week question was also discussed and it was voted to urge the international officers to keep up the fight for such working hours in states where mill employees are employed over 48 hours a week.

Just a Word About Loans in May

It is this: If you are intending to buy or build a new house, or to pay off an old mortgage and are thinking of borrowing the money from the Lowell Co-operative Bank in May or even later, it will be well to take into consideration the fact that the bank is planning to hold a large loan exhibition in May.

Put in your application as soon as possible. Supply will be limited. The unprecedented demand for money loans has been the cause of the bank's (April) emphasizing the importance of this suggestion. The amount applied for, $15,000, was the largest in the history of the bank. The bank has been in the city, and seldom has been exceeded in the entire state.

Already three hundred thirty patrons have filed their applications, although only two days have passed since the April meeting.

Hence this hint: Apply for money early. Don't wait. Waiting rooms: 521-4 Central Block.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS WILL RECOMMEND THAT DISTRICT COURT BE ENLARGED

Additions Will Call for Expenditure of $35,000—Commissioner Barlow Will Submit Recommendation—Hearing on Petition of Chelmsford Selectmen

The enlargement of the district court quarters on Market street, calling for an expenditure of approximately $35,000, for the erection of a one-story addition at the end of the building toward Central street, and a three-story addition to the opposite end, of the police headquarters, will be recommended to the city government, at the meeting to be held tomorrow night, stated E. B. Barlow, of the county commissioners, in conference here today. The proposed changes will add six feet to the end of the building nearest Central street, and 10 feet to the other end. The purpose of the change, is to enlarge the quarters of the second session court room, on the second floor and to make provision for a third session court room, on the same floor. Direct entrance to Superior court, Altkinson's office, and to Captain Petrie's office, on the main floor will also be provided for. Larger facilities for the probation officer and for several ante rooms will also be made.

The county in its recommendation, which will be drawn and submitted by Mr. Barlow, will state that the county is willing to pay additional rent to the city, to offset the cost of remodeling the building. Favorable action is expected.

Mr. Bruin said this afternoon he drew up the bill on his own initiative and not upon vote or direction of the school committee. No special meeting or gathering of the committee was held and the only communication Mr. Bruin had with his fellow-members was over the telephone with two or three of them.

The bill calls for authorization to borrow the money on a 20-year basis and will be forwarded to Representative Victor F. Jewett for filing with the general court.

DUBE AND MURPHY WEIGH IN FOR BOUT

Conrad Lynett, matchmaker of the Olympic club, led a delegation of pugilistic notables into The Sun office this afternoon. Included in the party were Kid Dube, of Lowell, Young Manly of New Bedford and several others. Manly came to show himself and display the injury, which caused him to call off his bout here tonight with Billy Murphy.

Two upper teeth were missing, and his lip swollen. He said the injury was too sore to permit him to box. Dube, who was secured at the last minute to take Manly's place against Murphy tonight, said he was in perfect condition. He also announced that he holds the featherweight championship of Canada, and hence Murphy may still annex a title, if he wins tonight. Dube and Murphy weighed in at the office of Dr. William M. Collins, local representative of the state boxing commission at 3 o'clock. Murphy weighed 122, Dube 121.

REPORT CLARA PHILLIPS FOUND

"Hammer Murderess" Said to Have Been Located at San Salvador

Los Angeles Paper Reports Her Apprehension Momentarily Expected

LOS ANGELES, April 16.—Mrs. Clara Phillips, convicted "hammer murderess" who escaped from the Los Angeles county jail, Dec. 5, has been located in San Salvador, according to a copyrighted story in the Los Angeles Examiner today. Her apprehension is momentarily expected.

Mrs. Phillips escaped by sawing the bars to the window of her cell. No definite clue to her whereabouts ever has been reported. Her husband and several other persons were questioned after Mrs. Phillips broke jail but their examinations developed nothing to add to the police theory that her break for liberty was a task too great for an unaided woman.

Police here early today said they knew nothing of the finding of Mrs. Phillips, although she might have been retaken at some point from which no report had been filed.

Last week a cablegram was received from Guatemala City, Guatemala, asking for a description of Mrs. Phillips. Nothing apparently developed from that query, however.

PITTSFIELD, April 16.—The three-year-old son of John P. Gasson was found virtually unharmed today at the home of Fred Miller in this city, where he had been taken after being hurled through the windshield of an automobile which had struck and killed his father and Miss Mildred Holt. Miller was arrested on a charge of murder.

Mrs. Gasson and Daniel Read, who were also hit by the car, were at a hospital today where it was said that their injuries were not dangerous. The automobile, after plunging through the group waiting to board a trolley car a mile and a half from the center of the city, sped away. What became of the baby boy was not known until the police had traced a car with a broken windshield belonging to Miller.

The police said that Miller admitted that he was driving the car at the time of the accident, but said he could not recall it because the gears of the car were not acting properly. He told them the child had been thrown through the windshield and landed in his lap. Miller is an electrical worker.

BATTLE IN RUHR NOT FOR COAL

Fight to Determine Whether Ideas of Right and Peace Would Progress

Foreign Minister Von Rosenberg, Addresses Reichstag on Ruhr Situation

BERLIN, April 16.—(By the Associated Press) Foreign Minister Von Rosenberg, addressing the Reichstag this afternoon, declared the battle now in progress on the banks of the Rhine and in the Ruhr was not one for coal or wood, but a fight which would determine whether the ideas of right and peace would progress or be strangled.

In the government's opinion, he said, an international commission of experts such as Mr. Hughes had suggested should determine, first, what Germany has done so far on reparations, second, what could and should Germany do regarding them in the future; and third, in what way could she do what was expected of her in the future. Money and the extent, he added, would be represented on such a commission with equal rights.

If the problem were handled in this or a similar way, he repeated, Germany would be ready to seek the highest loan possible in the international financial market and the proceeds of this loan would be available immediately as a cash installment to be turned over to the allies or to France.

D. A. R. CONVENTION BIG IMPROVEMENT IN EMPLOYMENT SITUATION

Buzz of Politics as 32nd Annual Continental Congress Opens at Washington

WASHINGTON, April 16.—A buzz of politics went into Memorial Continental hall today, with the two thousand delegates convening there for the 32nd annual continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Education in behalf of the distribution of campaign literature on the floor, and other precautions, the general sessions were protected from too zealous electioneering tactics. The annual address by Mrs. George May, a member of the retiring president's cabinet, marked the morning session program, while the afternoon program was occupied chiefly with the reports of national officers.

Secretary Hughes, Ambassador Jusserand of France and Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador, were listed to address the congress tonight. The three candidates in the forefront of the race to succeed Mrs. Minors Mrs. Wallace W. Hanger of Washington, Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook of Pennsylvania and Mrs. William Cunningham Story of New York.

Employment under the age of 11 has practically ceased in London.

TWENTY DROWNED, THREE BODIES FOUND
MEXICO CITY, April 16.—Address from Merida, Yucatan, says that only the bodies of three children have been recovered from Tabla Bay, in which 20 persons were drowned last Wednesday, when a motor-driven boat foundered.

The name of the Bishop of Balboa, who was reported among those lost, does not appear in the report from Merida.

HARRY RICHARDS, prominent Philadelphia business man, says he will no longer be cheated out of meals by stomach trouble, for Tanlaia has put him back in fine condition.

"No more will I be cheated out of the good things to eat, for the Tanlaia treatment has overcome my stomach trouble completely, and I have also gained eight pounds," declared Harry Richards, 10 S. Fifth St., Philadelphia, well known sporting goods dealer and member of the Royal Order of Moose, and the Ocean City Fishing Club.

"I was in such awful shape with indigestion that I had to lay off three and four days a week, unable to do any work. After eating my stomach would pain me till I was in agony, gas pressed up around my heart till I had to gasp for breath, and I was greatly annoyed by fear-cut dizzy spells."

"Mr. W. H. Williams put me onto Tanlaia, and now I never suffer from my old troubles, can attend to business every day, and am brimful of new energy. Tanlaia helped me when all else failed, and I'm glad to endorse it."

Tanlaia is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.—Adv.

SEN. WALSH ATTACKS RADICAL GROUPS

SPRINGFIELD, April 16.—Addressing the Knights of Columbus in the City Hall Auditorium last night, Senator David I. Walsh declared that radical groups are attempting to monopolize the political parties of this country and are thrusting their arrows into the economic system as well. He declared the rampant today and deplored the condition that leads the educated and well-to-do to be among these offenders.

He expressed opposition to the tendency of the government to restrict individual liberty and said it is a move away from democracy towards autocracy.

Senator Walsh stressed what he termed the failure of the government to take adequate steps to prevent suffering as a result of the coal shortage during the winter. Senator Walsh deplored the "unfailing manner" in which the coal situation was handled and characterized it as a "concrete example" of the "failure of the government to concern itself about the general welfare."

TOO YOUNG, ADMITTED ANYWAY

When a girl too young to wed and unaccompanied lands at Ellis Island she is usually returned to the country whence she came. But immigration officials broke precedent for Phyllis Curtis, 17, of Wales, when she said she was going to Nanticoke, Pa., to live with her sweetheart's parents until she is old enough to marry.

ABRAHAM HAITOWITSCH THE BLIND VIOLINIST

It is hard to believe that Abraham Haitowitsch, the famous Russian violin virtuoso, is without sight, although he has been so since he was two years old. An accident at that early age deprived this remarkable artist of sight, but not of two clear, normal appearing, deep-brown eyes, that fail to fix on any definite object, however, in the other world.

But there is a world of enchantment within the sensitive, musical head, surrounded by a mass of black wavy hair above a high forehead, and a countenance where serene contentment mingles with spiritual joy. He has no hobbies. Music fills his entire life, in which no woman has yet found a place. His constant companion is his devoted brother, David, because he has been so well treated in our country, Haitowitsch has decided to make America his home, and has taken out citizenship papers for that purpose. He says that America is the country where musicians are really appreciated. His aim is to become one of the great musicians of the age, and to that end he devotes his entire time and energy.

As to his contribution to the great war, he gave his time and talent to entertaining American soldiers and sailors in various camps, where he was always a favorite. When asked how he memorizes his music, Haitowitsch explained that there is very little violin music published in raised dots by which blind read, so that his large library of music has all been written by himself, with a small writing board such as is used in schools for the blind, and a small blunt instrument called a stylus.

Although spoken with a strong foreign accent, Haitowitsch's English is very good and it is easy to follow everything he says in that language. As told by himself, his story of arriving here is preceded by some interesting reminiscences of the Russia of yesterday. He has a very pleasant recollection of the graciousness and charm of the zarina, who was kind to him, personally thanking him at the close of a concert which was attended by some of the best people of the empire. The violinist speaks with enthusiasm of the beautiful harbor of San Francisco, the door through which he came into the United States. He saw that harbor through the eyes of his brother, who made him believe that he had come to a city of enchantment.

Haitowitsch carries a watch made by the famous Paul Baure of Petrograd. The face of the watch is without glass. The hours are marked by single raised dots above the numerals, but the numerals themselves are number signs, invisible to the naked eye. The works, of course, are the same as those of any other watch. A leading oculist in America, to whom the blind virtuoso applied, advised that he continue his musical career in a world of physical darkness rather than sacrifice it for the sake of making the rounds of all eye specialists. This he decided to do, as the world in which he lives now is beautiful.

Haitowitsch's first appearance in Lowell will take place at the Memorial Auditorium, on Tuesday evening, April 24, and music lovers will have the opportunity to hear this virtuoso in a very fine program which promises to be a real musical event of the season.

Writes as He Flies Above Clouds! Sun Correspondent Tells of His Journey Across English Channel by Airplane

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
Special Cable to N.E.A. Service and
The Sun

THE ENGLISH CHANNEL, April 15—
Sitting in a comfortable armchair, I
am pounding out this story on a typewriter perched on my knee.

Three-quarters of a mile below me
I can see the English channel. Rather rough, for quite a gale is blowing. To
wings of the Handley-Page float.
And on either side a rowing boat.
Royce twine, throttled down to carry us on schedule time, about 30 miles
an hour according to the speedometer
in front of me.

Cotton-wool is in my ears to drown
the noise. Yet that is not disagree-
able, for we are inside a sort of "parlor car" with seven chairs on either side of an aisle, and there are glass
windows.

Schedule is Exact

Overhead, on the ceiling, is a map of
our route—London to Paris, via Ash-ford, Hythe, Boulogne, Montreuil (St.
Louis), Dieppe, and Havre. The time of our arrival at each of these places is printed
opposite the name.

For you see, this is just the way to travel. I have only two large suitcases with me, but in the baggage
compartment to the rear there are several trunks belonging to another passenger.

Over the window at my elbow is a
notice. It says:

There are but five of us on board.
The pilot, G. P. Olley, one of the best in the business; two mechanics, a boyish Englishman and myself.

One of the mechanics has just the
chair in front of mine and is reading
from the rack overhead—a copy of
"John O'London."

A column called "Nibbles from Ned Piper's Street" catches his eye. Now he is on the sporting page. Now "Casanova," the

PHILIP SIMMS CROSSED THE
ENGLISH CHANNEL. BELOW,
INTERIOR OF ONE OF THESE
GIANT PASSENGER PLANES.

1. Smoking strictly prohibited.
2. It is prohibited to throw
objects from the window.
3. Pure water is carried on board
the plane.
4. In case of emergency put on the lifebelt like a waistcoat and fasten buckles. A sharp blow on
the lever will inflate the lifebelt.
5. There is a lavatory at the back of the saloon.
6. Passengers may move about
freely as the slight shift in weight
has no effect on the stability of the machine.

Supreme Adventure

"Don Juan, Casanova, and Wanderlust Jew all in one."

That seems to please him. He un-
fastens his flying garments and settles down. "Casanova, the supreme
adventurer," probably in all his life
never experienced the equal of this
new commonplace adventure of flying.

Far down a big liner is heading toward Boulogne.

The young Englishman takes his
pastboard lunch box from the rack and
begins to eat. His drink is whiskey
and soda. Cheese, tongue, and ham
sandwiches, fruit, cake and chocolate
for dessert, compose his viands.

We are skirting the shore line now.
A bit out to sea. Far below I can plainly make out the beach at Etaples

and the hotel where, when things were
quiet on the British front, I used to go
for a fancy feed.

The young English lad has finished
his meal.

I'm hungry. . . . The days represent the interval for my lunch. We're now past Abbeville. My "stout" tasted pretty good. Certainly beats home
brew.

Young English lad is asleep. What's the use? No more thrill in this flying
thing. No more novelty. Just a business now. Just a quiet way to travel—
quick and comfortable. Folks—even
young boys—go to sleep traveling a mile up in the clouds. I remember
when it was an event to hide on an
electric car.

Twelve years ago Heriot broke his mumplane's back crossing this same English channel. Gallant Heriot later and later trampled to death by a bul-falo in Africa—fell into the sea trying
it, just from shore to shore. I covered that story.

And Count De Lambert's feat, flying
around Eiffel tower in a Wright machine, breaking the record for both
height and distance in that one flight.
I covered that, too. And now look!

International Race On

Here comes the tag. Britain is leaving America "way behind in this flying
game—a game which America began."

Britain cut down her navy estimates,
thanks to the Washington conference.
But she boosted her air force estimates by more than $5,000,000, and I
have reason to believe still more will
be spent to keep France from leaving
her in the shade.

For Britain knows and France knows
that in the future nations will win or
lose their wars in the air.

It was to put this tag on paper that
I took my typewriter from the rack
not to write a novel story while flying
above the clouds. No novelty in that.

America's very existence may some-
day depend on her strength in the clouds. She'd better get busy.

BENEFIT FOR ORPHANAGE

Large Attendance at Concert
at Auditorium in Aid of St.
Peter's Orphanage

Memorial Auditorium last night was
the scene of the benefit concert for St.
Peter's orphanage, and more than 2500
friends of that home attended, despite
the fact that a heavy rain started just
at the time that the concert was scheduled to begin. The entire program was
under the personal direction of Miss Katherine V. Hennesey, director of the choir at St. Margaret's church, and to her goes much of the credit for its success.

The stage was arranged to represent
the music room of a palatial residence
and the entertainers came in as though
on a visit and were introduced to the audience by Hon. James B. Casey. The
only lighting in the whole Auditorium
during the concert was furnished by
the table lights and floor lamps on the stage.

The entertainers on the program
deserved the highest praise and the
applause received for their efforts amply repaid them for their work in the concert. The Boston College Glee club double quartet was
one of the outstanding features, and Miss Nora Burns, a contralto soloist
from Boston, was another feature on a program that was well above the average.

Professor Louis Napoleon Gullbault
acted as accompanist of the evening
and his work added considerably to the
beauty and the success of the concert.
The program was as follows:

SEE STREETS OF VENICE RIGHT HERE AT HOME!
Inhabitants of Freeport, Ill., say when they go to Europe they'll give Venice a wide berth, for they've had enough of gondola-ing in the streets since the temperamental Pecatonica river went on a rampage and made the town look the way you see it in the picture. Many drilling rescues took place. No one was killed.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking laxatives, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles. Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. Take one or two at bedtime for 30 days.

DENY BONAR LAW TO RESIGN

Several London Papers Indignant at "Conspiracy to Weaken Ministry"

Accuse Lord Birkenhead and Other Conservatives; Also Lloyd George

LONDON, April 16.—(By the Associated Press) The staunch supporters of Prime Minister Bonar Law among the morning papers are indignant at what they call the "conspiracy to weaken the ministry" launched in the Sunday press, which reported that the premier was about to resign because of ill health.

The Morning Post, the leading conservative paper, asserts with the greatest emphasis that there is no truth whatever in Sunday's stories and that there is nothing in the condition of Mr. Bonar Law's health to compel his resignation.

The Post and the other papers which share his views, attribute the "conspiracy" to Lord Birkenhead and other conservatives who refused to participate in the government. They also implicate David Lloyd George and his supporters, whom they say, desire the restoration of the coalition.

The conspiracy idea is supported to a certain extent by the moderate liberal Westminster Gazette, whose political experts write of "a certain club which seems to stamp Sunday's reports as calculated to be in anticipation of future events designed to a further, definite party arrangement and to bring back the unemployed unemployed ex-ministers."

Elsewhere there is equally firm support for Sunday's rumors. One writer, referring to last evening's official denial of the reports says:

"It may be true that Mr. Bonar Law has no intention of resigning, but it must be equally true that he has no intention of not resigning."

Most noteworthy among the news papers confirming Sunday's reports is the Daily Telegraph, which usually expresses moderate conservative views, although it was a strong supporter of Mr. Lloyd George. This newspaper's parliamentary expert says there are solid grounds for the rumor and asserts that if Mr. Bonar Law had thought free to do so, he would have retired before now. The premier, the writer adds, has now come to the conclusion, with profound regret, that he cannot hope to prolong indefinitely his incumbency in his present post.

MAY DISCONTINUE THE PELHAM LINE

The public service commission of New Hampshire has granted permission to the Northeastern Massachusetts Street Railway company to discontinue street car service between Pelham, N. H., and Lowell after June 1.

This line has not been paying expenses for a long time and the owners of the road made their first move for the discontinuance of the line about the first of the year. If the discontinuance goes into effect, the people of Pelham will have no rail connection with Lowell, and many who live along their tracks and work in Lowell will be seriously inconvenienced. This will also take away electric car connection with Nashua, unless the Eastern Massachusetts company decides to run cars to the state line, via Lakeview, to connect with the Nashua Street Railway company there.

Last summer this company ran cars through to the state line on Thursday nights and Saturdays during the very busy months, but the service did not pay expenses. It is doubtful if they will start such service again this year unless the trustees figure that the discontinuance of the Massachusetts Northeastern line will add to their business sufficiently to meet expenses.

THE SWEDISH LUTHERAN

Conference of New England Churches to Be Held Here April 25 to 29

The New England conference of Swedish Lutheran churches will be held at the Meadowcroft street church in this city from April 25 to 29. It will bring here from 200 to 300 delegates representing 15 churches and a half-dozen institutional organizations representing charitable organizations, Sunday schools and colleges. Rev. P. Nordgren, pastor of the local Swedish Lutheran church is making elaborate preparations for the conference. Today he conferred with Rev. W. Carlsson of Worcester, who has charge of the publicity work of the conference. One of the principal meetings will be held in Liberty hall. The program for the conference will soon be issued and will include a large number of religious and business meetings.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL TEAM
A baseball team is being formed at the Vocational school under the direction and coaching of Mr. John B. Gode, an instructor. A schedule calling for two games with Westford Academy, one with Chelmsford high, and one with Milford, N. H., has been arranged. Mr. Fisher also intends to have his team meet some of the high school teams in practice games.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
There may be more glittering and fascinating photoplays on the screen some day, but so far there have been none made which surpasses "Jazzmania," the big feature production in which Max Murray, the noted dancer and talented actress, opened a four day engagement at the Merrimack square theatre yesterday. Those who saw it yesterday were fond in their praise of this wonderful example of lavish cinema art, it outdoes "Broadway Boogie Woogie" and "The Great Ziegfeld." The other feature of the current program is "The Super-Sex," a humorous interest comedy-drama, with an all-star cast.

RIALTO THEATRE
Just 30 minutes after the opening of the box office at the Rialto theatre yesterday afternoon the seating capacity of the house was sold out to an immense throng which jammed itself inside to see the opening performance.

of the sensational photo-drama, "The Third Alarm," which opened a seven-day engagement. It was the first time in the history of this theatre that the box office was sold out in such a short space of time and what is considered more remarkable about the opening performance is the fact that the "sold out" sign was again displayed before the evening performance was over. Naturally, Manager George Hammond was elated with the success of his opening performance and predicted that the coming week will be the biggest in the history of the Rialto box office.

This production, "The Third Alarm," is really one of the best that has been turned out of any laboratory in the country this year. It is one that may be adapted for any city because it is a story of a public service that is particularly dear to the heart of every resident and every home owner. It is a story of the life of a fireman portraying his troubles in his declining years, the struggle of the wife and the dependent, the loss of the fireman and more sentimental automobile. Coupled with it is a delightful romance of love which is made all the more attractive by a number of thrilling scenes including one of the most sensational rescues from a burning building ever depicted on the silent screen. Manager Hammond and the staff are showing in Lowell at Chief Edward F. Saunders and his band of firemen and during the week these volunteers of the home are to be the guests of the management at the afternoon and evening performances.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE
Those who appreciate the delightful beauty of Irish music and life in the general life will be sure to appreciate "Sweet Installation," with Bernard Shaw's romantic Irish story, which the Lowell Opera House is presenting. Theatrical circles have been warm in their praise of the play which they are anxious to see in the city. "The Wicklow Postman" and "The Irish Heart." During the performance Mr. Daly will sing such old favorites as "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," "The Green," "Sweet Installation," "The Wind," "Mae," and "Foggy Day." Miss Ethel Stockton, the famous Viennese star, whose Lowell people will remember for her excellent work in "The Wind," a short time ago will play the lead in this week's production. Miss Stockton's charming personality and polished for the legitimate stage, is spending a short time in stock before accepting an offer to go on with a large production in New York. The additional quality of being expressive will remember her best for her delightfully cultured voice, which has a soft and a certain air of distinction and grace which she puts into all her work.

CROWN THEATRE
Gold, or money, is regarded as a thing with which the poor man from which all evil grows. Certainly it is responsible for a lot of full-grown evil men in the world. The Crown theatre, which will be shown at the Crown theatre for two days beginning today, "The Gold of the East," a play which is not only a story of a man's struggle to get rich, but also a story of a man's struggle to keep his soul. In this case a wealthy man in search of an innocent man to person after he saved his life, but it is then demonstrated that there are human sentiments more powerful than gold.

B. F. KIRBY'S THEATRE
"A Dress Rehearsal," which is a comedy, will be one of the two headliners of the present week's bill at the B. F. Kirby theatre. "Clean, Fast and Funny" by a competent company, it ought to score an instantaneous hit. "The Gold of the East," a charming little French woman, will appear in "A Little Touch of Paris."

What I Have Learned in 47 Years Practice

I HAVE been watching the results of constipation for 47 years. Since I began the practice of medicine back in 1875, I am now 83 years old, and though from time to time the medical profession makes some wonderfully interesting experiments and tests, the fundamentals of causes and relief in this particular ailment are unchanged.

But the people take greater interest today in their health, in diet, exercise and the drinking of water. Constipation, however, will occur from time to time no matter how one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. I believe in getting as close to nature as possible, hence my remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It is made of Egyptian senna and pepsin with noticeable aromatics. Children will not willingly take bitter things. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written me to that effect.

Over 10 million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are now sold every year, and it is the most widely bought family laxative in the world. I say family laxative because all in the family can use it with safety. It is mild enough for the infant in arms, effective in the most chronic constipation of an adult. The formula is on every package.

Recently there has been a new wave of drastic physics. Calomel, a mercurial, the salivates and loosens teeth, has been revived; salt waters and powders that draw needed constituents from the blood; castor oil disguised in candy form that causes skin eruptions. In a practice of 47 years I have never seen any reason for their use when a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as surely, more cleanly and gently, without griping, and without shock to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It lowers your strength 25 per cent, hardens the arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope but go to a druggist and get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a generous-size bottle. Take a teaspoonful that night and by morning you will be well. The cost is only about a cent a dose. Use Syrup Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and crampy stomach, piles, indigestion, loss of appetite or sleep, and to break up fevers and colds. Always have a bottle in the house, and observe these three rules of health: Keep the bowels cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.

In remembrance of my approaching 83th birthday, and will again send $10,000 in free samples. I am anxious to see one in every American home. Write for yours today. Send me no money. Write to Dr. W. MYSTERY OF THE SEA

Battle Between Rum Runners and Pirates Indicated—Schooner Found

NEW YORK, April 16. A mystery of the sea, involving a possible battle between rum runners and pirates, developed yesterday when the coast guard cutter Manhattan found the abandoned two-masted schooner "Patricia M. Dehan," with sails set and anchor dragging at the entrance to Great South Bay. The deck was strewn with empty cartridge shells and there were signs of a struggle, according to Capt. M. J. Ryan of the Manhattan.

The schooner probably carried a crew of ten men and sufficient food for ten days was in the hold. While no liquor was found, entries on the log and on a leaf torn from a notebook evidently owned by the unknown captain, indicated that the craft had been engaged in the rum running business between Bridgeport, Conn., and Key Port, N. J. The first entry on the log was made on Jan. 12 and the last at 4 p. m. on April 10.

Lashed to the deck of the schooner, which is finely built and of the Nova Scotia type, was a staunch 25 foot motor boat, with the name "Maid of Cayenne, La Havre, N. S." painted on the stern.

The coast guards towed the schooner into port and started a thorough investigation. Examination of the torn leaf from the notebook disclosed that on March 27, 5, 9, 18 packages of liquor had been sold at from $18 to $250 (presumably a case). One entry showed that five cases of champagne had been sold for $60.

On Jan. 27, some one designated as "Ralph" took 645 cases and 410 cases at other times. Another person noted as a "slip" took 600 cases and there were sundry sales to fishermen.

The schooner was once known as "Patricia Helen Bush," but the name had been painted over and covered with canvas upon which appeared the name Patricia M. Dehan.

A. P. TELEGRAPHERS HOLD MEETING IN BOSTON

BOSTON, April 15.—The first meeting of the Good Fellowship club of the Associated Press telegraphers, which was preceded by a reception and banquet, took place yesterday afternoon at the Parker House.

The club is the first of its kind to be formed in New England by the telegraphers of this news-gathering organization, and is to be composed along lines of similar clubs within the Associated Press circles throughout the West and Middle West.

The object of the club is all that the name implies. It is planned to meet, simultaneously in an informal way, and talk a little shop. In short, get together for a better acquaintance between the operators through New England and the executives of the Boston Bureau.

The banquet, which in itself was one of the well remembered, was followed by a brief introductory address by Palmer C. Booth, night operator at Boston, who, in turn, introduced John C. Harrington, of Taunton, as toastmaster.

Edward McKernan, superintendent of the eastern division of the Associated Press, was the principal speaker. He gave a brief and interesting talk on the purposes and accomplishments of the Associated Press, the success of the organization in bringing before the reading public a daily report of current news of a caliber that had gone a long way in advancing the civilization of the world.

Other speakers included C. A. Press, eastern division traffic chief, who gave a comprehensive talk on the aims of the traffic department; G. B. Littlefield, correspondent of the Boston Bureau; Ralph K. Smith, traffic department representative at Boston.

At the business meeting, the following officers were elected for 1923-24: President, P. C. Booth, Boston; vice president, M. L. Deane, Pittsfield; secretary-treasurer, John J. Keating, Boston; board of directors, John C. Harrington, Taunton, chairman; J. D. Kennedy, Concord; F. C. Knicker, Manchester; E. J. Coleman, Prov.

LANSING-ISHLI TREATY OFFICIALLY CANCELLED

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Official announcement that the celebrated Lansing-Ishii agreement between the United States and Japan had been cancelled and is "of no further force or effect," was made yesterday by the state department with an explanation, that the cancellation was being announced simultaneously in Tokyo by the Japanese foreign office, in a identical statement. The statement given out here included only the text of the notes exchanged between Secretary Hughes and Masano Hanihara, the Japanese ambassador, and was made public without comment.

The communications exchanged between the two governments reveal for the first time that the negotiations which led to the cancellation agreement were conducted personally by Secretary Hughes and Japanese embassy officials in Washington.

Actual consummation of the agreement, however, was effected in Tokyo by former Ambassador Charles E. Warren and the Japanese foreign office officials when they affixed their signatures to the documents after the negotiations had been concluded.

This act of cancellation restores a parity of interests on the part of the Japanese and American governments in China and gives them an exact status with that of Great Britain, France, Portugal, Italy, Belgium, and The Netherlands, the other signatory powers to the nine power treaty negotiated by the armistice conference.

The cancellation of the Lansing-Ishii agreement also has the effect of eliminating all ambiguity of existing diplomatic arrangements by removing that agreement by which the United States recognized that Japan had "special interests" in China.

By this accomplishment, nothing remains between the United States and Japan that conflicts in any way with the provisions of the nine power act as they treat the question of the open and equal opportunity for nationals or citizens of the governments signatory to the treaty.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT NO SUGAR SHORTAGE

Judge Enright Back on the Bench — Small Monday Morning Docket

Judge Enright returned to the bench in the district court this morning after an absence of two weeks and was greeted with a small docket. Joseph Marchese pleaded guilty to a complaint charging him with illegal gambling and was ordered to pay a fine of $100. The defendant asked for a time extension in which to raise the money, saying he had but $50 in his possession at the time. He was given ten days to raise the additional $50.

Albert B. Tardiff pleaded not guilty to drunkenness and driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. Tardiff was arrested in December, 1922, while Napoleon Carpenter yesterday after the machine which he was driving struck and knocked down a man named Dupre on the Lowell-Lawrence boulevard in the former section. Carpenter was charged with drunkenness and his case was placed on the docket for this morning. Tardiff was continued to April 27, his bonds being fixed at $200 for the charge of drunkenness and $500 for driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

James Moore, a parole man from the state farm, was given to understand that he was getting away fortunately when a suspended sentence was imposed on a drunkenness charge.

Recent Advances Due to Speculation, Say State Commission Investigators

BOSTON, April 16.—The state commission on necessities of life, reporting to the legislature today on a special investigation of the sugar situation, said there was no shortage, present or prospective, and that the recent advances were due largely to speculation, most of it in the New York Sugar Exchange.

The activities of the exchange were declared to be purely speculative, and it was asserted that the exchange "played an important part in the recent thimble-rigging of sugar prices."

The commission found that neither production costs nor the tariff had anything to do with increasing prices. Regulation of the flow of sugar from Cuba was possible, it was said, by the concentration of ownership in a few strong hands, some in the United States, some in Canada.

The world production of sugar this year, was estimated at about 1000 more than that of last year, and it was added that best sugar fields of France were being fast rehabilitated.

PAPPAS LOSES FIGHT FOR LIFE

Supreme Court Imposes What Appears to Be Final Block to Fight to Escape Chair

Contention of His Counsel That Court Was in Error Overruled Today

BOSTON, April 16.—The supreme court today imposed what appeared to be a final block to the fight for life of Paul Pappas, condemned to death for the killing of Alice Arsenault when it overruled the contention of his counsel that the superior court was in error in sentencing him. This law passed last year which provides that a year must elapse between conviction and sentence in capital cases does not apply in his case. It was decided, Pappas, originally under sentence to die in the electric chair during the week of March 18, spent two weeks in the death house at the state prison, with the execution postponed from day to day in the last week, before the court asked the governor and council to grant a stay of execution until May 1. In order to obtain a full bench ruling on the petition.

attended by his father, Mr. Alfred Clutter. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom, 24 Ward street, where the couple will make their home.

Reynolds-Burcy
At a nuptial mass celebrated at 8 o'clock at St. Louis church, this morning, Mr. Charles F. Reynolds and Miss Irene Barry were united in the bonds of matrimony. The celebrant of the mass was Rev. F. X. Gauthier. Appropriate hymns were sung by the choir under the direction of O. J. David, Miss Ida Monaghan presiding at the organ. The bride wore a tan traveling suit with white and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley, sweet peas and orchids. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left on a week's honeymoon trip to New York and upon their return they will make their home at 41 Beacon street. Present at the wedding were Henry Barry, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Miss Evelyn C. Durant of Lawrence.

17 RESCUED FROM SHIP IN BLINDING STORM

BIDDEFORD, Me., April 16.—Coast guardsmen from the Fletcher's Neck station early today rescued 17 men and a crew of 17 men from the tanker Anahue, which grounded near Fortune's Rocks in a blinding snowstorm late last night.

The tanker was resting easily on a sandy beach and Captain Stewart was confident she would be floated on the next high tide with the aid of the cutter Osprey, which was expected from Portland. She was bound to East Wintree, Mass., from Bangor, where a cargo of 350 barrels of oil had been discharged.

The thick snow made it impossible to see the lights along the coast, and the tanker's course was being shaped by the compass. Off Fletcher's Neck, she was pointed too far westerly and before the lookouts were aware of danger, the craft grounded on a sandy beach after escaping high, rocky bluffs on either side.

Will Plant Memorial Grove of 100 Oaks in Knapp Ave.

Oaks that will form the memorial grove will be set out.

The red oaks are expected next Saturday. They are seven or eight-year-old trees, two inches in circumference and when matured are noted for their beauty and symmetrical appearance.

Superintendent John W. Kernan today is discussing plans for the Arbor day exercises with Clarence M. West, chairman of the park commission. The proposition already has been taken over with representatives of the Legion and a definite program of exercises will be announced within a few days.

It is the opinion of the park board that no more beautiful memorial is possible than the planting of a grove of shade trees and the spot selected, in an area already far advanced as a public park and on one of the slopes of Fort Hill, is thought to be particularly adapted to the idea. The conversion of Knapp avenue into a "Remembrance Drive" not only will greatly enhance its appearance, but will provide a beautiful foreground to the Memorial grove, the cemetery and Fort Hill from Rogers street.

It is the great desire of the park commission that some Lowell representative be in Washington on National Arbor day, May 4, when most of the trees will be planted, one for every large city in the country. Mayor John J. Donovan does not feel he will be able to attend, but the commissioners feel someone should be delegated to represent the city at the capital on that occasion.

TO HOLD MASS MEETING INTERESTING ADDRESS

Dissatisfaction in Local Mill — 12½ Per Cent Increase is Rejected

Because of some dissatisfaction prevailing in the warping department of the Appleton company, the employees of the plant will hold a mass meeting in Trades & Labor hall tomorrow evening.

The nature of the dissatisfaction or grievances existing in that particular department of the mill was not made public.

It was learned this noon that John Hanley, president of the Lowell Textile Union, president of the Appleton company, the alleged grievances this morning, but nothing was accomplished at the conference. Mr. Hanley admitted conferring with Mr. Bowen, but he would give no information whatever on the matter. Mr. Bowen, when later questioned by The Sun, stated that Mr. Hanley called on him this forenoon and said that as far as he knew all grievances in the warping department of his mill, if any existed, had been settled.

WAGE INCREASE NOT ACCEPTED

The so-called voluntary 12½ per cent wage increase granted to the Lowell New England mill and cotton mills, including the cotton mills of this city, which is to become operative April 30, was rejected by the members of the New England conference board of the United Textile Workers of America, which was held yesterday at 3 Boylston street, Boston.

The meeting also adopted resolutions addressed to the international officers of the organization requesting that the fight for a 2½ per cent wage increase all over New England be renewed and continued to a finish.

The meeting was presided over by President Francis Johnston of Maynard and was attended by over 100 delegates, including ten from this city, headed by John Hanley. The wage discussion was the topic of discussion and after the matter had been gone over very carefully it was voted to renew and keep the fight for the original wage increase asked for by the U. T. W. of A., that is 2½ per cent in order to bring back the mill operatives' wages to the level of 1921 when a 20 per cent reduction went into effect. The vote was 100 to 10 in favor of the resolution.

The international officers of the organization, which included Mr. Hanley of this city, incidentally the 48-hour week question was also discussed and it was voted to urge the international officers to keep up the fight for such working hours in states where mill employees are employed over 48 hours a week.

County Commissioners

Continued
The second hearing on the petition of the board of selectmen of Chelmsford, for the rounding of the abrupt curve at the junction of four streets in the square, was heard in the county court house in Gosham street, this morning. The Littleton road, Chelmsford street, Millerie street and Westford road come into the square at one point. Permission to round the corners has been received from the property owners on three of the four corners, but G. T. Parkhurst, owner of a store on the fourth corner, objects to the taking of his land on the plea that at some future date he might want to build an addition to his store, on the land that the commissioners are planning to take for the improvement. Parkhurst was the only objector to appear at the hearing.

Favorable action was taken on the continuation of Varum avenue in Tyngsboro. This road runs by the Lowell General hospital.

Chairman A. L. Cutting of Weston, presided at the hearing. Walter C. Wardell of Cambridge and E. R. Barlow, commissioners, were also present at the meeting. Commissioner Barlow, in speaking about the conditions of the highways, said that they were in very poor condition for the heavy traffic that is now running over them. The heavy fall of snow which drew the frost out of the ground, softened the roadbed and left them in a pitiable condition for automobile traffic. Extreme repairs will have to be made to prevent serious damage to the roads in and out of Lowell, he asserted.

Boston Priest Talks on "The Christian Drama of the Middle Ages"

"The Christian Drama of the Middle Ages" was the subject of a very interesting address by Rev. John J. Geoghan, S. J., before the League of Catholic Women at their regular monthly meeting in Associate hall yesterday afternoon. Rev. Fr. Geoghan, an eloquent and far-reaching speaker, was introduced to the members by Vice President Dr. Emma E. T. Slaughter, who is acting president in the absence of Mrs. John T. Donohue.

Before the introduction of the principal speaker, a pleasing musical program was carried out. Miss Grace Moran, accompanied on the piano by her sister, Lillian, entertained with a group of songs, and the entire audience joined in the singing of hymns led by Mrs. Joseph W. Green. Mrs. Mary M. Devine accompanied.

It was announced by the chairman that the following nominating committee had been named to submit the list of nominees for the various offices for the coming year, at the May meeting: Miss Cora McGowan, Mrs. Joseph Crawford, Miss Louise McEwen, Miss Anna Melling and Miss Carmen Reddick.

Fr. Geoghan's talk on the drama was interesting as well as interesting. "When we hear as we often do of the difficulty of access to the bible in olden times," he said, "we must remember three things: First, that for the majority of people of early days access to any printed or written book would have been useless, because they could not read. Second, because the preachers of the bible, who wrote it, patently were in their own script, were the monks who are so often derided. Third, the real open bible of the middle ages was not in history, but it was found that the bible and books of history were two different things. The bible was chained, he stated, so that all could have access to it.

The speaker then turned his attention to the false assertions that Martin Luther was the first translator of the German bible. It has been proven he said, that 15 editions of the bible were in circulation before Luther became a man and the Catholic church evolved from its own literature, a drama that lasted four or five centuries in Europe and became the open bible of medieval times. "The mystery and miracle play of the middle ages," he added, "were open to the most vivid and impressive style, for even though the people could not read, they got the bible in those medieval plays, a great deal had to be left to the imagination. They worked more or less on the Cato system by suggestion. These plays were not merely occasions for amusement. They had religious significance."

The remainder of Fr. Geoghan's talk was concerned with the work of the great Christian guilds of the middle ages and the effect of the drama on civilization up to the period of reformation.

GIANTS BEAT WHITE SOX

NEW YORK, April 16.—With a spring season this year, the Chicago White Sox made complete yesterday by an eighth inning victory at the Polo Grounds over the New York Giants. The game was a close one, with the army team at West Point, which had departed for Boston tonight. The Giants won the series, 3 to 2, one contest being a tie.

The Yankees won a close game yesterday, 3 to 2, in the final spring exhibition game.

Just a Word About Loans in May

It is this: If you are intending to buy or build a house this year, or to take out a mortgage, and are thinking of borrowing the money from the Lowell Co-operative Bank in May or even later, it will be to your advantage to apply as soon as possible. Supply will be limited. The unprecedented demand for money from this bank in the present month (April) emphasizes the importance of this suggestion. The amount applied for, $127,000, was the largest in the history of any co-operative bank in this city, and seldom has been exceeded in the entire state.

Already three forwardhand thrifty patrons have filed their applications. Although only two have passed since the April meeting.

Hence this hint: Apply for money early. Parkhurst, owner of a store on the fourth corner, objects to the taking of his land on the plea that at some future date he might want to build an addition to his store, on the land that the commissioners are planning to take for the improvement. Parkhurst was the only objector to appear at the hearing.

Favorable action was taken on the continuation of Varum avenue in Tyngsboro. This road runs by the Lowell General hospital.

BRIDAL VEIL FLOUR

It isn't luck or the "know how" that makes your neighbor's loaves of bread look so much more tempting and palatable than your own. IT'S BRIDAL VEIL FLOUR.

Eliminate all doubt and uncertainty by using this all wheat flour. It has met the test of superiority applied by discriminating housewives for over half a century.
